Unless presented in a jar or bottle, exhibits should be staged on a paper plate and covered with cling film or a clear rigid cake cover

137 A jar of fruit curd
138 A jar of chutney or relish – made in the last 12 months
139 Six chocolate truffles
140 A bottle of elderflower cordial
141 A coconut and lime cake made to the recipe below
(taken from BBC Good Food magazine, May 2005):

CAKE
200g caster sugar
200g softened butter
4 eggs (beaten)
200g self-raising flour
1 tsp baking powder
2 tbsp milk
200g block of creamed coconut

FROSTING
Zest and juice of two limes
100g softened butter
140g icing sugar
2 – 3 tbsp Malibu (optional)
100g toasted desiccated coconut

METHOD
1. Heat oven to 190C/Fan170C/Gas 5. Butter two 20cm sandwich tins and line with non-stick baking paper. Grate the 200g block of creamed coconut and keep half of it aside. Then in a large bowl, beat all the cake ingredients (including half of the grated block of the coconut) together until you have a smooth, soft batter.
2. Divide the mixture between the tins, smooth the surface with a spatula or the back of a spoon, then bake for about 20 mins until golden and the cake springs back when pressed. Turn onto a cooling rack and leave to cool completely.
3. For the frosting, mix together the remaining creamed coconut and the zest and juice of the 2 limes. Microwave on High for 30 secs (or heat gently in a small saucepan) until the coconut melts.

4. Make the buttercream by beating the butter until smooth and creamy and gradually beating in the icing sugar. Then beat in the cooled coconut mix and 2 – 3 tbsp Malibu (optional) until it becomes marshmallowy.
5. Fill the cooled sponges with a third of the frosting, cover the sides and top with the rest and coat the sides with the toasted desiccated coconut. Keep in an airtight container and eat within 2 days.
